

Try to make a list of 50 or more words below that describe you!

Silhouette Word Portrait -

- Have your photo taken (full body) in a pose that is recognizably you.
- Place a blank sheet of paper over your silhouette image and trace lightly with pencil. You will erase this later.
- Now fill in the blank area with words that describe you.
 - Don't be afraid to use contradictory adjectives.
 - Vary the shape of the letters for interest.
 - Don't write your letters too large or your form won't show up.
- You can use symbols such as stars, spirals, hearts and flowers to fill in the gaps.
- When you've completely filled the image with words, go over it with a fine tipped felt pen or ink pen.
- Erase your pencil lines and voila....you have a cool outline of yourself filled with juicy adjectives.
